Anti-Racism Training

Why is Anti-Racism Training important?

- To help you understand and meet the challenge of living and working in a multi ethnic society
- To help you recognise racism and how you might address it
- To encourage your family support group or organisation to adopt policies and good practice to combat racism
- To promote anti-racist practices and develop appropriate services to meet the needs of minority ethnic groups

Who is Anti-Racism Training for?

- Facilitators and Members of Family Support Groups
- Family Resource Centre Representatives
- Local Drugs Task Force Representatives
