

Evaluating Impact in the Community and Voluntary Sector

Training Programme 2024

This three-module development programme has been designed specifically for service providers in the Community and Voluntary Sector, to enable you to effectively evaluate and communicate the impact of your projects and services.

It brings participants together in hands-on sessions to examine proven processes and insights from impactful projects. You will work through real life scenarios and walk away with the skills and tools you need to tackle your evaluation work.

The programme is suitable for anyone new to evaluation, and those who have experience of gathering data but want to learn how to analyse and report it in a meaningful way.

You can access the modules online or in person, and you can do as many as you need.

All sessions are online and will run from 09:30-13:00
via Zoom

Module 1:
Evaluating Impact:
An Introduction

Part 1:
Thursday 19 September

Part 2:
Tuesday 24 September

Module 2:
Evaluating Impact:
The Nuts and Bolts of Evaluation

Part 1:
Thursday 17 October

Part 2:
Tuesday 22 October

Module 3:
Evaluating Impact:
Telling the Story of your Data

Part 1:
Thursday 14 November

Part 2:
Tuesday 19 November

To register please contact:
ECOtraining@effectiveservices.org

More information is available at:

'Evaluating Impact in the Community and Voluntary Sector' Training Programme (effectiveservices.org)

£150 per person per module

£400 per person for all 3 modules

If you would like to discuss a bespoke training programme for your organisation, we would be happy to help.

Contact ECOtraining@effectiveservices.org